

Scifest Africa needs help from members of the general public and educators to stay in touch with their school and learners after the festival and in order to ensure we obtain an accurate attendance figure for Scifest Africa 2017. This will ensure that we obtain visitor statistics that will assist us to secure sponsorship in future.

We require all schools that attend the festival to register, either before the festival through the Ticket Office, or during the festival at the official Scifest Africa Registration Desk at the Monument and at the South African Institute for Aquatic Biodiversity (SAIAB).

All registered members of the general public, educators and learners will receive an entry wristband for every day in attendance at the festival. Visitors are requested to please wear the correct colour wristband at all times during the festival to ensure entry into festival venues. Wristbands can be collected with pre-booked tickets at the Ticket Office or the registration desks.

The colour allocations for each day are as follows:

Day	Date	Colour	Day	Date	Colour
Wednesday	08 March 2017	Green	Sunday	12 March 2017	Yellow
Thursday	09 March 2017	Pink	Monday	13 March 2017	Red

Scifest Africa also needs the help of teachers accompanying young people, and in return there is a special offer to thank you!

We continue to offer a special Teachers Registration to teachers. A registered teacher will receive a special registration card (not transferable). Upon registration of this card, the holder is entitled to observer status at workshops attended by their group, and free entry to all the lectures. Booking is however essential and tickets will only be issued on presentation of the official identification issued by the organisers. In return, we request that registered teachers assist us by motivating, inspiring and controlling their groups, staying with the learners, and structuring their group's visit. Registered teachers who are not accompanied by their group will not be allowed free entry into lectures or workshops.
